Talents Principle

The enterprise relies on the employees, vice versa. Therefore, talents are the capital and the fortune of a business. De Pei always welcomes those with lofty ideals.

Our competition mechanism is to let the able ones develop, the mediocre ones relinquish, and the incapable ones quit, advocating a simple and harmonious interpersonal relationship. We resist any "corporate politics" phenomenon, so that the relationship between people will become simple and healthy, and we will be able to strive to build a happy working atmosphere.

We also care about employees' personal life, encourage employees to pursue both physical and mental health. The company encourages employees to have various kinds of cultural activities, relaxing body and soul, hoping they work hard and play hard as well.

We not only retain employees by salary, but also by career and attachment.
